

A voyage to Antarctica in pursuit of knowledge.

UWA Scientists Ghislaine Platell, Sandra Kerbler, Amanda Blythe and Melinda Fitzgerald have all won a place in a pioneering expedition to Antarctica. As part of Homeward Bound, a leadership program for female scientists, they will brave freezing temperatures to study the effects of climate change.

Whatever your impossible might be, we invite you to pursue it.

Pursue impossible

